Stephen P. Haller and Jennie L. Osborne were both selected for the first year of inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America© 2018 in the field of Family Law. Stephen Haller joined Einhorn Barbarito as a partner in 2004. He is known for being ethical yet relentless in his pursuit of justice for his clients, making him one of the state's foremost family law experts. He is never afraid of doing what is right for his clients, and is a formidable courtroom opponent. The hallmark case in Haller's career was his representation of former New Jersey Governor James McGreevey. Mr. McGreevey's original temporary custody hearing granted his daughter less than equal time with him and he believed that equal time would be in her best interests. There were also substantial issues involving parenting time, celebrity goodwill valuation and employment valuation. Haller was also New Jersey counsel to Christopher Rock in his divorce.

Jennie Osborne joined Einhorn Barbarito in 2004 and was elevated to Counsel in 2012. Her practice is devoted solely to matrimonial and family law, where she vigorously advocates for clients in all matters pertaining to family disputes including divorce, alimony, child support, child custody and domestic violence, among other areas. Given the emotionally wrenching aspects of many family law cases, especially when children are involved, Osborne works tirelessly to create a solid outcome that won't be threatened by multiple challenges and changes in the future. Osborne acted as associate trial counsel to McGreevey in his divorce and custody litigation.
